

AUSTRALIAN CHRISTIAN LITERATURE AWARDS
CALL FOR ENTRIES

2010 Australian Christian Book of the Year Award

The Australian Christian Book of the Year Award is given annually to an original book written by an Australian citizen normally resident in Australia and published by an Australian publisher. The award recognises and encourages excellence in Australian Christian writing.

The ACBOY Award carries a prize of $2,500 for the author, and a framed certificate for the author and publisher. A short list is announced in July and the awards are presented during August. Supplementary awards may be made.

Entries are judged with an eye to the:

Original nature of the work.

Literary style, including suitability for the target audience.

Design, layout, cover, text and illustrations.

Contribution that the book makes in meeting a need for Christian writing in the Australian situation and in the Australian market.

Submission of entries

Entries must be published after 1 April 2009 and submitted by 31 March 2010.

There is no limit to the number of titles which a publisher may submit.

Entries are read and judged by a panel selected by the SPCKA Council. If, in the opinion of the judges, no entry meets the standards expected, no award will be made.

Send four copies of each title being entered, together with a $50 entry fee per title to:
